The Age newspaper- Digital Edition

Getting Started
Click on the Online Databases icon on the PCs in the Library and scroll to The Age-digital edition. You can also gain access, both on and off-campus, via the Library link on the Chisholm homepage. Click on the Databases link under Finding Information and scroll to The Age-digital edition.

Off-campus access will require you to enter your Chisholm Username and Password when requested. (Chisholm students and staff only)

Articles from January 2006 onwards are available. There are three ways to search:

1. Search
Click on the Search tab on the left hand side of the Homepage.

Click in the Search box and enter your search terms. For help using Boolean logic searching, click on Search Tips.

Select time range defaults to Archive Period which will be from January 2006 onwards.

Date Range will give you the opportunity to select a date range by clicking on dates in the calendar.

Entire Archive is the same as Archive Period.

Select content from All, Articles, Pictures and Ads. Select Sort by list by clicking on the down arrow and choosing from a selection such as date, title etc.

Click Go.

2. Advanced search
Click on the Search tab on the left hand side of the Homepage.

Type one or more search terms into the Search box and select other parameters.

Click Go.

Results
For each of these two searches, a list of articles will appear. Next to each article you will see the date and a series of icons.

Choose the first icon to open your article OR simply click on the title.

Choose the second icon to show your chosen article on the page within the newspaper.

Choose the third icon to add the article to your Collection. This will keep a running tally of articles which you can open by running the mouse over the Features link on the main page and clicking on My collection. Click on each title to open and read or print. This folder is available only during the current search session.

3. Browse archive
Select publication (defaults to Age)
Select Year and Month
Select Day by clicking a date on the calendar

The front page of the chosen date will appear. Click on right arrows next to News Link to turn the page.

Select different sections of the paper by running the mouse over Sections Link. A drop down box will appear. Choose from News, World, Arts and Culture, Business, Classifieds etc.

Run the mouse over titles and photos. Click on your chosen article title to open. Click on the symbol in the right corner to close.

Printing
To Print, open the article. An enlarged copy will appear with print options available. You can also email the link to the article.

To Exit, simply close the window.

Other services from The Age
Articles from the last 10 days are available on The Age website at http://www.theage.com.au.

Also in ANZ Reference Centre and eLibrary which are available on the Chisholm databases page and are up-to-date to within one day.

Chisholm Library Online Reference Service
The library will provide research advice and answers to brief questions. Please visit http://library.chisholm.vic.edu.au, and click on “Ask the Librarian.”